10 About the Refund of School Fees

As a rule, we will not refund the tuition fee paid for the first year.

Basically, the withdrawal or course change within the course period is not acceptable. When it is unavoidable, it costs ¥100,000 yen as the handling charge.

However, during the period from the payment accomplished and entering Japan, if one cannot come to Japan for visa rejection from the embassy (certification necessary), or private reasons, the school fee paid, excluding the application fee and matriculation fee, will be refunded after the Certificate of Eligibility and the Confirmation of Enrollment are returned.

The bank transfer fees are the student's responsibility.

After one year of enrollment, the school fee paid will not be refunded, regardless of the reason for withdrawal. However, part of the tuition fee may be refunded by fulfilling the followings:

- a). The student is forced to return home for appropriate medical treatment that cannot be offered in Japan or for other unpreventable reasons.
- b). The student submits the Withdrawal Notification.

- c). The student leaves Japan promptly after the withdrawal.
- d). The student's sponsor designs the local bank account, which can accept international remittances appropriately.
- e). The student agrees to pay the handling charge of ¥10,000 for the school fee refund.

The Material fee and other expenses for qualification exams, field trips, and other events of each year will not be refunded after the start of the academic year.
